Holly Harris & Jason Chan

Holly Harris and Jason Chan are a talented Australian ice dance team known for their dynamic performances and strong chemistry on the ice. Holly, born in Sydney in 2002, began skating at a young age and initially competed as a singles skater, achieving success nationally and internationally before transitioning to ice dance. Jason, born in Canada in 1996, also started in singles before moving to ice dance, which ultimately led him to partner with Holly in 2019.

Together, they have rapidly become one of Australia's leading ice dance teams, displaying a mature and elegant style that emphasises both technical precision and artistic expression. Their programs often highlight intricate footwork, smooth transitions, and an engaging storytelling ability that has captivated audiences. Holly and Jason train under notable coaches and have competed in events such as the ISU Grand Prix series, where they've gained valuable experience and exposure.

Their strong partnership, work ethic, and consistent improvement have made them promising contenders on the international circuit, representing Australia with pride. With ambitious goals for future competitions, Holly and Jason continue to inspire fans and contribute to the growing popularity of ice dance in Australia.
